

I am in opposition to the Consumer Bankers Association's (CBA's) challenge to the Indiana Telephone Privacy law in a proceeding before the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). Indiana is only providing me a mechanism (that actually works) that allows me the opportunity to deny unwanted telephone solicitations/inquiries. I believe the unwanted and not requested telephone calls are an invasion of my privacy. The telephone privacy law is a viable means of ensuring my right to make the decision to receive or not receive unsolicited telephone calls. Thank you for your consideration regarding this matter.
